

How to make a complaint guide

Making a complaint

We aim to provide a caring, high quality service and are always pleased to receive your feedback, both positive and negative. However, we recognise that we don't always get it right. If the service you received today has not met your expectations then we would like to know why not. All comments and complaints are taken seriously regardless of their nature.

We understand that it is not always easy to make a complaint and so will endeavour to sort out your concerns as quickly as possible. To help this process it is helpful if you can make your comments at the time the problem occurred or as soon as possible afterwards. This gives us the best opportunity to resolve the issues.

If for any reason you feel you are unable to complain directly to us there are a number of other routes you can take. These are:

- With the Commissioner of services (for example the local Clinical Commissioning Group).
- To the CQC.
- Directly with the Parliamentary and Health Service Ombudsman (PHSO) at any time.
- Directly with the Independent Healthcare Sector Complaints Adjudication Service (ISCAS) at any time. (private patients only)

We will respond to your concerns considerably, quickly and as effectively as possible in line with the NHS Complaints regulations (2009).

How to make a complaint

Our complaints procedure is based on three stages detailed below and is designed to make sure that we work with you to resolve any complaints as quickly as possible.

Stage one - local resolution

You can make your complaint:

- In person / by telephone - ask to speak to the manager

- In writing (including email) - some complaints are easier to explain in writing, please give as much information as you can, then send to the manager as soon as possible.

We will contact you within three working days of receipt and together agree a plan on how the complaint and investigation will proceed. We will also agree with you a timescale within which our response will be sent.

The response will tell you how the complaint was investigated, the evidence considered, the conclusions reached and any actions taken.

When we look at your complaint, we shall aim to:

- Find out what happened and what went wrong
- Make it possible for you to discuss the problem with those concerned, if appropriate
- Make sure you receive an apology, identify what we can do improve the service

It may be helpful for you to meet with the manager and the clinician to discuss your concerns and if this is the case arrangements will be made for this to happen at a mutually convenient time.

Complaining on behalf of somebody else

Please note that we keep strictly to the rules of medical confidentiality.

If you are complaining on behalf of someone else, we have to know that you have their permission to do so. We will require their written permission to do so unless they are incapable of providing this, through illness or in the case of a child. Only information relevant to the complaint will be disclosed.

If the 'complainant' does not want any information from their health records to be disclosed, this might affect the extent to which we can investigate and respond to your complaint.

Stage two - an internal review:

If you are unhappy with the response you receive from the local manager you can request an internal review by writing to the divisional manager for Practice Plus Group - your concerns will be reinvestigated by a senior member of staff where you received your treatment and who has not previously been involved in the original investigation. The investigation will also review how your complaint was handled at the first stage.

The outcome will then be reviewed by the divisional managing director for Practice Plus Group who will write to you with the final response.

Stage three - external review

If, following internal review - stage two, you are still dissatisfied with the outcome of both internal investigations, you may request an external review of your complaint.

For NHS patients, please refer to the Parliamentary Health Service Ombudsman (PHSO).

For Self-pay patients, please refer to the Independent Healthcare Sector Complaints Adjudication Service (ISCAS).
